Business and Culture in Europe
May 21 - June 5, 2011

Compare and contrast different economies as you explore important business centers throughout Europe. Attain a better understanding of the global economic environment as you study business and earn college credit. You will begin your 16-day journey in London where you'll visit important, historic landmarks throughout the city and an international business school. Then travel by train to Paris and then on to Rome where you'll experience firsthand the beauty and history of these remarkable cities that are home to countless Fortune 500 companies. The final leg of your European journey will be a ferry from Rome to picturesque Barcelona, a city known not only for its unusual and striking architecture but also for its importance to international trade and finance.
